2. What the programs are

The programs are self-paced educational courses with readings, practices, fictional stories, reflection prompts, quizzes, and a final assessment, offered as a handbook (PDF and DOCX) and a course site. They may also be taught by a GGN educator. They are education and peer support for the public, families, workplaces, faith communities, and volunteers. They are not medical care or mental health treatment, and they do not teach diagnosis or treatment.

Initials:

3. Eligibility

The Learner confirms they are at least 18 years old, or that a parent or guardian has signed below, and that the information they give is accurate.

4. Fees

Program price: [PRICE: set by GGN in Stripe and shown at checkout]. Group or educator-led price: [PRICE: set by GGN in Stripe]. Refunds follow the GGN Refund and Cancellation Policy.

5. Participation and wellbeing

- Programs discuss death, grief, and sometimes suicide, trauma, and violent loss. The Learner may skip, pause, or step away from any part.
- Practices such as breathing, gentle movement, and body awareness are optional. The Learner will stop any practice that causes pain, dizziness, or distress and will check with a doctor if unsure.
- If the Learner is in crisis, they will call or text 988 in the United States, call 911 in an emergency, or contact local services elsewhere. GGN programs and educators do not provide crisis services.

Initials:

6. Group sessions and conduct

In any live or group session, the Learner agrees to follow the GGN Code of Conduct and Community Guidelines and to keep other participants' stories confidential. Sessions are not recorded unless everyone is told in advance. Limits on confidentiality are explained in the Confidentiality and Mandated Reporting Limits Notice.

7. Progress and certificates

Course sites save progress only on the Learner's device (see the Privacy Policy). Learners who complete all modules and pass the final assessment may request a GGN Certificate of Completion, signed by Tony Lynch, Founder. It is not a license, a clinical credential, or continuing education credit. See the Continuing Education Disclaimer.

8. Use of materials

GGN grants the Learner a personal, non-transferable license to use program materials for their own learning and to share learner handouts with family and friends for personal, non-commercial use. Teaching the program to others requires a GGN educator agreement. See the Intellectual Property and Copyright Notice.

9. Release and limitation of liability

The Learner takes part voluntarily and accepts the ordinary risk of emotional discomfort that comes with learning about grief. To the fullest extent the law allows, the Learner releases GGN, its founder, officers, staff, volunteers, and educators from claims arising from participation, except claims arising from gross negligence, willful misconduct, or anything that cannot be released by law. GGN's total liability is limited to the amount the Learner paid for the program. [Attorney: confirm enforceability.]
